Happy Halloween!

Halloweenies.

Halloween is a spooky night.

The moon is full and shines so bright.

Children in costumes of all shapes and sizes

Walk through the streets wearing different disguises.

Each creepy critter searches for sweets,

Knocking on doors, calling, "Trick-or-Treat!"

Some wear dresses

And some wear hats,

Some bring their teddies

And some bring black cats.

Some ride on broomsticks

While others float by,

Some walk together

B. D. M.

And some try to fly.

There's so much to do on this fun holiday,

Like stuffing a scarecrow with straw and with hay,

Bobbing for apples until someone wins,

Carving your pumpkins with big scary grins,

Joining some friends for a quick game of tag,

And sharing the sweets in your big goodie bag.

With their bags filled with candy,

All the critters that creep

Find someplace cozy
And fall fast asleep.

Happy Halloween!
